

Real Estate Agents Errors and Omissions Liability

Why do you need real estate errors and omissions coverage?

- ▶ As a real estate agent, your customers depend on your knowledge to help guide them through the many aspects of a real estate transaction. Each area of a real estate transaction exposes you to a potential lawsuit in the performance of your duties.
- ▶ Whether you represent the buyer or the seller, they depend on your expertise and can bring a claim against you.
- ▶ Even if you provide them with the best service, document your files, do everything right and in accordance with the law, you can still be brought into a claim.
- ▶ Our society is getting more and more litigious; expenses for litigation costs alone can cause a real estate agent/agency to go bankrupt.
- ▶ As a real estate agent, you may be wearing many hats, such as providing leasing, property management, broker price opinion and incidental notary services. You need a policy that is going to protect you from a claim arising from any of these services.
- ▶ In 2017, there were nearly 30,000 housing discrimination complaints filed. Our policy provides a minimum of $250,000 up to a max of $1,000,000 in coverage for these claims.
- ▶ We have seen a rise in dual agency transaction claims in which, after the sale has gone through, either the buyer or seller is unhappy and they blame the agent who made the double commission for being greedy. The dual agency form signed by both parties does not prevent this claim from arising.
- ▶ Today's real estate marketplace is very complicated. It is crucial to your agency to not only have a policy that provides you with great coverage, but also has a great claims team to support and defend you when that bad day happens.
